

Government announces reforms to boost profits for farmers with a cast iron commitment to food production

Environment Secretary to set out his vision to boost farmers' profitability and sustainability as part of the Plan for Change.