

Government announces trading plan to continue sell down of NatWest Group shareholding

The government intends to sell part of its shareholding in NatWest Group plc (formerly the Royal Bank of Scotland Group plc) through a trading plan, it was announced today (22 July).