

Government backs Karen Carney's blueprint to raise standards in domestic women's football

Government agrees with the review's recommendations including supporting the FA and NewCo in the full professionalisation of women's football, and equal access to sport in schools for girls.