

Government calls time on councils running four-day weeks

Department for Levelling Up, Housing and Communities tells councils to cease any four-day working week trials immediately