

Government puts AI to work for bakers, road workers and more

Small businesses across the country will be helped to boost their productivity and efficiency through AI tools set to be trialled.