

Government reintroduces confirmatory PCR testing for assisted testing

New technology known as 'genotype assay testing' to support identifying variants of concern.