

Government scheme to help universities in financial difficulties

New government scheme launched to support English universities at risk of insolvency