

Government takes further action to drive positive change in the tenant farming sector

This Call for Evidence will explore concerns about poor practice in the tenant farming sector and examine the role of industry and government in addressing them.