

Government to progress with plans to renew local TV licences

Government confirms broadcasting licences for 34 local TV stations can be extended for the next decade