Grave of missing soldier identified in Belgium nearly 110 years after his death

The final resting place of a Londonderry-born soldier who died in World War 1 has finally been found, and a headstone installed marking his grave.