

Graves of lost World War One soldiers identified in Belgium

The graves of three World War One soldiers, from Somerset, London and Staffordshire, have now been marked more than a century after their deaths.