

Greater protections for children from future strike action

Proposals will put in place protections for children's education and provide certainty for parents. Minimum service levels to be in place by next academic year.