

Groundbreaking COVID-19 treatments to be fast-tracked through clinical trials

The world's most innovative treatments for COVID-19 will soon be fast-tracked through the UK's clinical trial system, as the government announces funding for the most promising treatments.