

Guatemalan awarded in the UK for her scientific achievements

María Isabel Amorín developed a technology specializing in producing biopolymer from shrimp shell waste for wastewater treatment.