

Guidance: Clinical pathway for babies who screen positive for SCID

Following this clinical pathway will help immunology services and teams to make sure babies are referred into diagnostic testing in the required timescales.