

Guidance: Drainage and wastewater management plans: guiding principles for the water industry

The water industry is producing strategic drainage and wastewater plans to maintain, improve, and extend robust and resilient drainage and wastewater systems.