

Guidance: Preconception advice for women with serious mental illness

Resources for health care professionals and women with a mental health condition who are planning a pregnancy or may become pregnant in the future.