

Guidance: Producing and processing organic food if there's no Brexit deal

If the UK leaves the EU in March 2019 without a deal, find out how this would affect anyone who grows, processes, imports or exports products labelled as organic. This applies to products including food, animal feed, livestock (including bees and farmed fish) marketed as "organic".