

Guidance published on new carbon capture technologies

The new guidance outlines recommended techniques for carbon capture and supports the Government's aim for the UK to become carbon net zero.