

Guidance: Reduce grassland management intensity next to watercourses

Find out how land managers can improve water quality and soil structure by changing the management of grasslands next to watercourses.