

Guidance: Reservoir emergencies: on-site plans

A reservoir emergency on-site plan is used by people who are unfamiliar with the reservoir, for example:

- a temporary supervising engineer
- a newly appointed Inspecting Engineer
- the emergency services
- the Environment Agency

These documents include guidance on how to prevent dams failing and minimising an emergency incident's effects.