

Guidance: River Thames accommodation licence: private tariff

Updated: Updated private accommodation tariff for 2018 to 2019

You need a River Thames accommodation licence for any structure on, in or over the river or cut into the river bank. Examples of a structure are jetties, pontoons, docks and slipways.

This tariff applies to all licences for private accommodations in, on or over the river, cut into the river bank or on Environment Agency owned towpath land.

There is an annual fee for an accommodation licence, which runs from 29 September each year.
