

Half a million words analysed by AI

We use AI to help government departments process consultation responses. This helps clients analyse responses submitted by people in industry and the public.