

Health Secretary welcomes reopening of fertility services

New guidance will allow clinics to reopen if they can prove measures to protect staff and patients are in place.