

Homes and beds to help hundreds of rough sleepers off the streets

Nearly £220 million given to councils across the country to help deliver over 800 homes for rough sleepers and help prevent families from becoming homeless