

Homes England Senior Independent Director Appointed

Homes England can confirm that Simon Dudley has been appointed Senior Independent Director by the Homes England Board today (4 July 2019).

The Non-Executive role is in addition to Mr Dudley's responsibilities as a Board member and will include acting as intermediary between the Chairman and Board members and deputising for the Chairman.

Mr Dudley will commence his new role with immediate effect, including deputising for Sir Edward Lister during his short leave of absence while he carries out specific work related to the Conservative Party leadership contest.
