Hong Kong Customs seized about 50 kilograms of suspected ketamine with an estimated market value of about $26 million at Hong Kong International Airport (HKIA) yesterday (August 14). A man was arrested.

Customs officers yesterday inspected an air consignment, declared as carrying textile garments, arriving in Hong Kong from Pakistan at HKIA. The batch of suspected ketamine was found concealed inside the trousers in four out of five carton boxes.

After follow-up investigation, Customs officers arrested a 38-year-old man suspected to be in connection with the case at HKIA on the same day.

Investigation is ongoing.

Under the Dangerous Drugs Ordinance, trafficking in a dangerous drug is a serious offence. The maximum penalty upon conviction is a fine of $5 million and life imprisonment.

Customs reminds members of the public to stay alert and not to participate in drug trafficking activities for monetary return. They must not accept hiring or delegation from another party to carry controlled items into and out of Hong Kong. They are also reminded not to carry unknown items for other people, nor to release their personal data or home address to others for receiving parcels or goods.
