

Hong Kong Observatory Open Day “Working Together for a Better Climate” to be held

The Hong Kong Observatory (HKO) will hold the HKO Open Day on November 30 and December 1 (Saturday and Sunday), with the theme "Working Together for a Better Climate".

This year marks the 75th anniversary of the founding of the People's Republic of China. The Open Day activities will not only showcase the various services of the HKO and enhance public understanding and awareness of climate change and extreme weather, but they will also provide a brief overview of the long-standing collaboration between the HKO and meteorological authorities in Mainland China and around the world over the years.

Online pre-registration is required for the Open Day activities. Each applicant may request a maximum of four tickets free of charge. If there is an oversubscription, selection will be made by computer balloting. The online registration system will accept applications from today (October 17) to noon on November 1. Successful applicants will receive tickets with a QR code by email on or before November 16.

Open Day details:

Venue: Hong Kong Observatory Headquarters (134A Nathan Road, Kowloon)

Date: November 30 and December 1 (Saturday and Sunday)

Time: 9.30am to 5pm

Remarks: The duration of each session is around one hour

For more information on the Open Day activities, please visit the HKO website: www.hkoopenday.gov.hk/en/registration.