

How the UK is helping connect off-grid communities across Africa

By using clean energy, lives are being transformed across Africa