

HRH The Duke of Edinburgh

News story

The sad death of HRH The Duke of Edinburgh has been announced by Buckingham Palace.

Although this is an extraordinarily difficult time for many, we are asking the public not to gather at Royal Residences, and continue to follow public health advice particularly on avoiding meeting in large groups and on minimising travel.

We are supporting the Royal Household in asking that floral tributes should not be laid at Royal Residences at this time.

Published 9 April 2021