

Imaging software supports the scientific community

The Science and Technology Facilities Council – UKRI were awarded £100,000 by the Government Office for Technology Transfer (GOTT) to improve their software.