

Initial findings recommend keeping duties on cast iron articles

In its initial findings the TRA recommends maintaining anti-dumping duties for another five years to continue protecting the UK's cast iron articles industry.