

Innovative SRUC graduate trainee scheme to train new consultancy stars of the future

An innovative graduate trainee programme has been launched by Scotland's Rural College to help identify and train the new consultancy stars of the future.