

Insolvency Service warns people to be on their guard against fraudsters impersonating the agency and its staff

The Insolvency Service has seen an increase in fraudsters targeting people who have previously suffered a loss on an investment.