

International Animal Health Specialists Choose a Highland Venue for their Gatherings

Inverness and Aviemore will be the focus for a Highland gathering of world experts in animal health and disease control this week.