

International community urged to come together or face losing the global contest of ideas, Lord Chancellor to warn in landmark speech in Washington

The international accords that have guaranteed freedom, security and prosperity since 1945 are “fraying at the edges” as a direct result of Russia’s illegal war, the Lord Chancellor will tell Washington today.