

International Development Secretary calls on UK aid agencies to share data on staff misconduct

The International Development Secretary has called on all UK aid agencies to join a data-sharing scheme which stops perpetrators of sexual abuse from moving around the sector undetected