

Invasive crayfish found in Yorkshire's River Esk

The Environment Agency is urging river users to follow advice to stop the spread of the invasive signal crayfish after a population was found in the River Esk.