

Italians: the climate crisis is the greatest concern

Twelve months after the first survey in the framework of the activities promoted by the British Embassy around COP26, a new SWG survey reveals that the climate crisis is the top concern for the vast majority of Italians, esp..