

More than 102,000 properties protected during Storm Henk and recent flooding

The Environment Agency is warning people to continue taking care following the recent flooding