

jHub Fellowship Scheme: “We define innovation as doing something different that adds value.”

Innovation is often described as doing something new or different, but at jHub it's essential that these new approaches add value.