John Glen sets out plan for modern Civil Service to deliver stronger public services

In his keynote address at the Institute for Government's annual conference, the Minister for the Cabinet Office, John Glen, will outline his long-term priorities to modernise the Civil Service into a more productive institut...