

King Charles III England Coast Path opens up Norfolk coastline

A new section of the King Charles III England Coast Path has been opened, giving the public access to some of Norfolk's coastline for the first time.