

King's Speech to unlock growth and "take the brakes off Britain"

Improving living standards for working people through economic growth will be the central focus of new laws set to be unveiled by His Majesty The King today [Wednesday 17 July].