

Labour Department occupational health public talk cancelled

In view of the latest local epidemic situation, the Labour Department announced today (December 11) that its occupational health public talk entitled "Occupational Health for Professional Drivers" scheduled to be held on December 23 at Lecture Theatre, Hong Kong Central Library, has been cancelled to reduce the flow of people and social contact. Enrolled participants will be informed of the cancellation.