

Lancashire farming partnership fined for slurry pollution

A farming business has been fined and ordered to pay costs totalling more than £10,000 for twice polluting a watercourse and breaching slurry regulations.