

Landmark times tables data and investment in maths teaching

First ever set of national data on children's times tables published, as Government announces new investment in maths teaching