

Letter to the Prime Minister on investment in innovative science and technology companies

The Council for Science and Technology have written to the Prime Minister giving advice on encouraging scale up investment in innovative science and technology companies.