

Major crackdown on NHS waste

A new strategy is being published to radically cut the number of single-use medical devices in the health service.