

Major housing deal completed, bringing benefits to forces families

Taxpayers and military families will benefit from a deal to bring more than 36,000 military houses back into public ownership, which has formally completed today.